PBS&J's Technical Presentation Series
"Dummy's" Guide to common Application Protocols used in ITS

Ever feel like the world is overcome with acronyms? Between technology, text messaging, and blogging you can get lost in the sea of alphabet soup!!

Please join us on Thursday, March 5th, when John Hope of PBS&J will solve some of the mystery and give a presentation on a "Dummy's" Guide to common Application Protocols used in ITS.

The presentation is intended to provide an audience without a software background an understanding of what Application protocols are, how they work, and how they can be used in ITS.

The protocols covered will include SMTP, POP3, IMAP4, HTTP, HTTPS, SOAP, FTP, Telnet, SSH, and SFTP, along with related information about TCP, using XML, and internet sockets.

We are hoping for an energetic exchange of ideas and opinions that will carry on beyond the bounds of the presentation time!

Date: March 5th, 2009
Time: 12:00pm Eastern
Location: WebEx Webinar or PBS&J Orlando office
 482 South Keller Road
 Orlando, FL 32810

ITS Florida
New Website

Have you visited the ITS Florida website at www.itsflorida.org recently? ITS Florida launched its new and greatly improved website during the month of February.

The bold new look was designed by Global-5 Communications, an ITS Florida member, to complement the ITS America site.

The Harrington Group, a Florida based software and technology solutions company provided the customized content management software and are hosting the site.

The new design lets you look at the latest News and upcoming Calendar events on the home page.

ITS Florida will be hosting the 2011 ITS World Congress conference in Orlando. The upper right hand of each page has a countdown clock to that event.

Want to submit an article and/or job opportunity postings? This process has been significantly improved. Just fill out a form on the website and it will be sent to ITS Florida.
